09:25:09 From Carolyn Yvellez (she/her), BayCAN to Everyone:

Feel free to use the chat to connect!

09:25:17 From Mindy Craig to Everyone:

Here here! I would love to have an Oakland Connection! My office is open for medium-ish meet ups - Neat Ashby BART!

09:25:19 From Susan Silber to Everyone:

Does BayCAN have a slack channel, or other means for members to connect?

09:25:55 From Carolyn Yvellez (she/her), BayCAN to Everyone:

Susan - no not yet but we have considered adding a Slack.

09:26:14 From Carolyn Yvellez (she/her), BayCAN to Everyone:

I've recorded that suggestion.

09:26:15 From Jamesine RG | BAAQMD | she/her to Everyone:

+1 to the Slack channel idea

09:26:16 From Susan Silber to Everyone:

There are tons of communication channels out there that allow members to easily network (not just Slack).

09:26:33 From Susan Silber to Everyone:

Hylo, Mighty Planet are a few

09:26:46 From Michael McCormick (he/him) BayCAN Staff to Everyone:

<https://www.linkedin.com/company/bay-area-climate-adaptation-network/>

09:26:48 From Carolyn Yvellez (she/her), BayCAN to Everyone:

Thanks for those suggestions, I'll write them down for us to explore.

09:26:58 From Terrie Green to Everyone:

How do I connect with the NorthBay group?

09:27:38 From Christina Oraftik (she/her) BayCAN to Everyone:

Please feel free to send more ideas to admin@baycanadapt.org

09:28:08 From Carolyn Yvellez (she/her), BayCAN to Everyone:

Terrie, We are exploring ways to build a communication portal that allows people to connect geographically - stay tuned.

09:32:31 From Breakthrough Communities to Everyone:

We use Slack for another group. Works well for Google Doc co-creation, jump to Zoom and more. Free trial period

09:32:56 From Carolyn Yvellez (she/her), BayCAN to Everyone:

That's great to hear - Slack seems like a great option.

09:34:18 From Carolyn Yvellez (she/her), BayCAN to Everyone:

We may also be able to hold an EWG meeting focused on Community Resilience Centers (just a thought!) Thanks for the suggestion!

09:34:26 From Mindy Craig to Everyone:

I am interested in helping on a Resilient Hubs Working Group

09:35:38 From Carolyn Yvellez (she/her), BayCAN to Everyone:

Noted, thanks Mindy!

09:35:39 From Billi Romain to Everyone:

I am also interested in resilience hub working group. Thanks!

09:35:58 From Carolyn Yvellez (she/her), BayCAN to Everyone:

Great, thanks Billi.

09:36:13 From Terrie Green to Everyone:

Hello Mindy, let's talk.

09:36:41 From Susan Silber to Everyone:

I am as well... I am consulting with the City of San Leandro to support a network of resilience hubs, spaces & blocks.

09:36:41 From Hoi-Fei Mok (they/them) to Everyone:

happy to join a resilience hub working group as well

09:36:48 From Susan Silber to Everyone:

with Fei 😊

09:36:58 From Carolyn Yvellez (she/her), BayCAN to Everyone:

If you are not a jurisdiction, but are interested in the BayREN CRC application, please reach out and I may be able to connect you to city/county staff! Carolyn@baycanadapt.org

09:38:33 From Jeffrey Wong, City of Oakland (he/him) to Everyone:

The City of Oakland would also be interested in joining our esteemed local government colleagues in a Resilience Hub working group with community partners.

09:39:06 From Carolyn Yvellez (she/her), BayCAN to Everyone:

Noted, Jeffrey. I'm recording names of those who are interested. Thanks!

09:42:38 From Mindy Craig to Everyone:

Dana it would be great to know if the Atlas will be expanded to incorporate other hazards beyond SLR, such as wildfire and extreme heat. It would be very helpful to have a single portal!

09:46:37 From Dana Brechwald, BCDC to Everyone:

Please reach out to me dana.brechwald@bccdc.ca.gov or Jackie (for shoreline adaptation plan questions or interest) at Jaclyn.mandoske@bccdc.ca.gov

09:47:26 From Moira McEnespy to Everyone:

thanks so much, all. sadly I have to go to another meeting now, but look forward to catching up with the recording later. all the best!

09:48:06 From Hoi-Fei Mok (they/them) to Everyone:

for cities who do not have yet a shoreline adaptation plan, would these regional plans suffice to identify jurisdiction level projects?

09:48:21 From Hoi-Fei Mok (they/them) to Everyone:

or should cities still move ahead with their own jurisdiction plans?

09:54:57 From Terrie Green to Everyone:

Thank you, Amos

09:57:01 From Hannah Doress she/her OOS to Everyone:

I hope BayCAN will prioritize equity training to help us grapple with the issues Amos and Miss Margaret are raising.

10:00:22 From Christina Oraftik (she/her) BayCAN to Everyone:

Link to funding tracker: <https://www.baycanadapt.org/fundingtracker>

10:02:39 From Carolyn Yvellez (she/her), BayCAN to Everyone:

If you don't see a funding opportunity that you would like to add, please email admin@baycanadapt.org

10:02:43 From Cory Bytof | San Rafael Sustainability | he/him to Everyone:

That's fantastic, thank you

10:03:39 From Breakthrough Communities to Everyone:

Thanks for chart - need tutorial and tech assistance - agree with Warner also reminder - please state name before you speak. We need verbal reference for tracking.

10:04:52 From Lani Lee Ho, VTA (she/her) to Everyone:

Just curious about the technology...is airtable free? It might be useful for one of our projects.

10:06:08 From Mary Cousins, Bay Area Clean Water Agencies to Everyone:

10:19:57 From Jamesine RG | BAAQMD | she/her to Everyone:

Might OPR staff be able to help us understand what Gov Newsom meant in his July 22 letter to Chair Randolph when he said: "climate-ready, climate-friendly homes"? I haven't found that term defined online and the letter says there is funding associated with it. Thanks!!

10:20:15 From Hannah Doress she/her OOS to Everyone:

@OPR Can you clarify what scale or range of scales is meant by regional?

10:22:29 From Kristyn Vega-Payne, OPR to Everyone:

RRGP Stakeholder Survey: <https://forms.office.com/g/fPbyTAAUXz>

10:26:07 From Mindy Craig to Everyone:

One area I see a lot of needs is with more rural Parks and Recreation Districts who are facing issues related to climate impacts, are working to try and serve a lot of communities that are not well served by a county (typically in unincorporated areas. Have you consider them as a stakeholder?

10:26:23 From Mindy Craig to Everyone:

*by

10:26:37 From Arlene Nunez Garcia to Everyone:

Thanks for the presentations, everyone.

10:28:57 From Terrie Green to Everyone:

Ms. Margaret is so correct about this issue.

10:32:34 From Mindy Craig to Everyone:

And how they can leverage each other!

10:33:04 From Susan Silber to Everyone:

Agreed they are competing... and the smaller CBO's will find it very challenging to access either of them.

10:33:12 From Jamesine RG | BAAQMD | she/her to Everyone:

Who should we email at OPR to follow up with for questions?

10:33:14 From Mindy Craig to Everyone:

And make it easier and more flexible!

10:34:36 From Kristyn Vega-Payne, OPR to Everyone:

Kristyn.Payne@opr.ca.gov

10:34:39 From Hannah Doress she/her OOS to Everyone:

Look forward to BayCAN's role in helping advance a substantive equity lens for local, regional and state efforts.

10:35:01 From Sloane Viola, OPR ICARP to Everyone:

Two programs with the Strategic Growth Council that go further than other state programs to support community-driven project prioritization are the Transformative Climate Communities program and Regional Climate Collaboratives program. Highly recommend exploring how those programs can support the needs you've identified.

Link to EWG interest form: <https://forms.gle/YhMXModVyZj1eGUZ9>

10:54:21 From William Smith to Everyone:

A clarification on reaching out to underserved communities. BAYCAN members need to attend the meetings as regular OBSERVERS as well as presenters. Participating as an observer puts all parties on a more equal footing.

10:56:15 From Michael McCormick (he/him) BayCAN Staff to Everyone:

Quick fact! The International Panel on Climate Change at the United Nations was founded the same year as the States first assessment in CA (1988!)

10:58:06 From Hannah Doress she/her OOS to Everyone:

Will Tribal research include Tribes that are not federally recognized?

The US National Assessment has a lot of great examples of how you engage and include various experts, communities, Indigenous knowledge holders, and different ways of knowing, etc. into the development of the report. Happy to share some of that from my experience as an author on NCA3 and NCA4

I was an author on the Tribes and Indigenous Peoples chapter in NCA4 and heavily involved in engagement Indigenous folks and experts on the various chapter author teams, for one example <https://nca2018.globalchange.gov/chapter/15/>

11:18:03 From Mindy Craig to Everyone:

Definitely need that translation...How to apply the research to advocate and act!

11:18:22 From Susan Silber: Planting Seeds Consulting to Everyone:

It would be great to understand the relationships between these groups/individuals. Kumu maps are great tools for that:

11:19:01 From Michael Barber, San Mateo County to Everyone:

A chart showing historical NIGHTtime HIGH temperatures in California would be interesting. Increased nighttime temperatures are amping up wildfires.

11:19:03 From Shannon McNeeley to Everyone:

also neil (and others) you should know about, if you don't already, the recent Status of Tribes and Climate Change Report (I was also on steering committee and author team)

11:26:20 From Michael McCormick (he/him) BayCAN Staff to Everyone:

^+Michael B - although high daytime temperatures are the most important for infrastructure considerations, nighttime temperatures deeply affect human health if our bodies cant cool themselves.

11:29:30 From Jeffrey Wong, City of Oakland (he/him) to Everyone:

@Shelley, did the modelling in this study factor in water availability/drought conditions out to 2050 and its impacts on tree canopy?

<https://climatereadiness.info/uhi-project/>

11:32:42 From Bruce Riordan, Berkeley Climate Change Network to Everyone:

That's why wet-bulb is so important. It is not just heat but humidity that does not allow a body to sweat (literally) and to cool off after the sun goes down.

11:33:50 From Jamesine RG | BAAQMD | she/her to Everyone:

I did research on wet bulb in the SJV when I was at UCS. Humidity levels in CA are lower than many other parts of the US so wet bulbs temps are not as extreme as say SE US. Still an issue no doubt though. Would love to connect with you more on this Bruce.

11:34:18 From Christina Oraftik (she/her) BayCAN to Everyone:

Breakout group questions:

1. What data, research, or information do you need to effectively design and implement heat programs to protect people, infrastructure and ecosystems?

2. What resources do you need to implement heat programs?

11:41:27 From Amos White - 100K Trees for Humanity to Everyone:

I have to drop now. Another good meeting. Well organized, good presentations and info, and great facilitation.

11:54:59 From Bruce Riordan, Berkeley Climate Change Network to Everyone:

People in the Bay Area sometimes chuckle when you say we need to work on HEAT in this region. Two responses: 1. Many of us live in the inner band of the Bay Area where it is cooler and forget that eastern CC, Alameda, Solano and Napa can get quite quite HOT. 2. In the big 2006 week-long heatwave in CA the largest number of ER visits and hospitalizations were in the Central Coast including the Bay Area, mostly because we are not AC'd here as much and not as prepared for big heat.

11:57:41 From William Smith to Everyone:

Thanks for pointing out the role of evapotranspiration. When light strikes leaves, some of its energy is captured in chemical bonds rather than heat, so photosynthesis plays a role analogous to albedo to reduce the heat produced by sunlight. Thanks for stimulating me to consider the role of trees.

11:58:39 From Hannah Doress she/her OOS to Everyone:

Here in San Mateo County we have been working on community resilience projects including two hubs in South San Francisco and Half Moon Bay and a climate preparedness project in collaboration with North Fair Oaks Community Alliance. Happy to connect with others working in this area: hdoress@smcgov.org

11:58:48 From Jamesine RG | BAAQMD | she/her to Everyone:
